15 Old Bailey

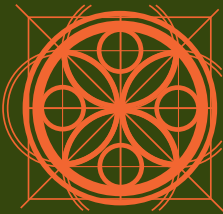

15 Old Bailey boasts a prestigious position right opposite the Central Criminal Court at Old Bailey.

A handsome late-19th-century property, this was originally the first ever hotel with electric lighting. And while this original feature has been replaced to meet today's standards, much of the building's elegant Victorian detail still remains, following a sympathetic restoration.

All interiors have been carefully designed to provide stylish, contemporary offices and meeting facilities, with plenty of daylight throughout.

PAYE were appointed as a trade contractor to complete all external façade and fabric cleaning and repairs. Having worked within the City of London for more than fifteen years, our knowledge and understanding of the Corporations byelaws and requirements proved invaluable to ensure that the works were completed safely and on time.
